HONGKONG, SATURDAY, AUGUST 27, 1892.

- RESWICK'S SHARE BILL.

Ir is claimed that much of the depression now existing in Hongkong would have been prevented had the Sale Shares Ordinance, 15 of 1891, passed earlier -say. In 1888; that had that law been already in force before the great boom commenced, prices and hopes would not have risen so high as ,to, overwholm the Colony when the fall came. Arguing from this, the supporters of the measure assert that the Ordinance will prevent such bubbles swelling up to burst disastrously in the future. His Excellency the Governor is asked to take this view, in spite of his own assurances, that he is a man of experience in finance and commercial science. This demand on his credulity and innocence is, in our opinion, a very lest-handed compliment, and Mr. BELL-Inving must be careful not to insult the [30 Governor's intelligence much more, for fear of losing his birthright as head of for Ireland Jardine, Matheson & Co. in Hongkonghis-lawful-succession-to-the-vacant seat in the Council. Mr. Brrittes, too, and the other plausible platitudinisers should be careful how they make rash and audacious attempts to bolster up a cause as rotten and ephomeral as was the great boom itself.

For cannot shares be "bulled" or Privy Seal. 'beared' when their numbers have to be stated? Of course they can. Cannot cash transactions lead the gambling man to the same mad fever as do time contracts? Of course they can. Is there any time business about a Kowloon po-iss hell? there any speculation in non-existent merchandise, or other fictitious considerafiltration, daily examinations and periodically to tion, in a Macao fan-tan dive? Not searching chemical analyses; so that absolute much. Yet people get the same madness as in gambling with time bargains; and they will always, when they have more money than brains, make fools of themselves just the same in any sort of share dealings, and the prohibition or permission of short-selling, or any other individual branch of gambling, matters not the value of a Burreros opinion.

> By the way, the discussion on Wednesday, last would form a fine subject for a 850,000 libel action and cross-actionbetween Mr. KESWICK and Mr. MACHINTOSH. The latter, a man whom we love not at all, yet have always perforce respected for his sterling business qualities, said on April 8th last:-

..... I refer to Mr. Keswick's Share Bill. over. This proposal, you may remember, was fully discussed at a large meeting of members | SIR Edward O'Malley, Chiefe Justice nof the of the Chamber specially convened. The result showed a strong majority was opposed to the proposed legislation, yet, the Government | Knr., the Chief Justice of Cyprus. declined to accept the opinion of those whose practical knowledge should have been a sufficient guide to them. They passed the measure without amendments of any kind, a measure which I have no hexitation in saying, for the has been temporarily extinguished. purpose it was intended; has no parallel in the United Kingdom or its colonies. Now what is the result, of that legislation, by the light of the present day?" What most of us, I imagine, auspected. The legislation did not remanate from any real desire to curb gambling, but was actually the result of a combination of one powerful clique sgainst another, both deeply interested in share trafficking, one trying to corner the other. I don't want to touch aid sores; those who suffer know their own bitterness and any attempt on my part, to expose them to public gaze would be most uncongenial. I only deeply regret that the interregnum Government then in office had not looked farther shead and been guided by the advice tenderse by this Chamber.

And now, after walting all these months. when everybody who was "In the swim" as fled the Colony, or disappeared; in some way-now, Mr. Bell-Invine rakes that they don't swarm out here from Home; or up the old subject :-- this Chamber (Mr. Mackintosh). I think if much to be regretted that in then referring THE scoundrel Yeo Wellington (as he calls to the subject now before this meeting, he himself), hes been found guilty of defrauding used-por shall I say abused ?-the position with young actresses, and is now under lock and key which he was entrusted, by indulging in unwar- doing his nine months' "hard." One cannot ranted insinuations and, statements pointedly | help feeling, however, when reading such a case simed at the Vice-Chairman, who was the as this, how very simple; and confiding many original promotor of this Bill, but at the time people are. It would have been easy to learn unhappily absent owing to ill health. These at the New Clympic Theatre, whose note-paper insinuations and remarks, so far as Mr. Ken- hencred, whether Yeo was genuine or not. But wick is concerned. I unbesitatingly dony and the average . English sman for awoman, and characterise as absolutely false. From such especially the young woman, seems very easily scilon in the past the Chamber has been I taken in. But why this villain was not sentence happily free, and I think we cannot too strongly to be noged as well as Juice is a question this future, tending as it must to lower the tone of I blackguard that ever lived. the Chamber and weaken its infracto. It is also, I am given to understand, currently rean interest in a syndicate poerating in shares, benefit, Gentlemen, in case such zenosts should become of the Hon. J. J. Kizzwicz?

"All that I do in taking care of Clebold, a German, that "foreign paupers were not required in England," and that Clebold had better go back to-his-own country. Now, this was really a most unkind out at the monarchy and its hangers-on. For if the foreign paupers are all to go back to the fond embraces of Queen Victoria's grandern in Berlin, along with Frank Clebyld will go the Herr Von Battenberg, the Herr Von Leiningen, the Herr Von Saxe-Weimas, and several other "herron " and "damen" too of the German pauper class, who, but for the British taxpayer, would have "no visible means of subsistence." IT would be interesting to get the figures for the comparative cost of the annexation of Tonguin and that of Upper Burms. Unfortunately these are not avilable; but it is well known that the French colonies are a terrible drain on the mother country and that Tonquin more especially is a veritable white elephant. The officials in charge of that colony are often embarrassed for want of funds, although large prants are made annually, and more has generally to be asked for at the end of the year. This is partly due to the pernicious system of drawing up exceedingly optimistic budget estimates and then explaining why the results have fallen so far short of the expectations held out. Indian finance ministers, on the other hand generally err on the other side, drawing up the estimates from the most pessimistic point of view, on the principle that it is much easier and more satisfactory to have to explain better surplus than was anticipated. than to have to apologise for and explain a worse one. Barring some unexpected famine or a wilder vagary than usual in exchange, it is seldom that our budgets err on the side of being too hopeful. In Tonquia, on the other hand, the budget estimates are always too rosy in colour, made so deliberately apparently, so as to hoodwink those who have to find the money to meet the deficits. We know, though the actual figures are not available, that Tonquin is still a very heavy drain, and that the financial results would compare most unfavourably with those for Upper Burms.—Rangoon Gazette.

LATE TELEGRAMS.

ALLAMABAD, August 5th. Lord Roberts will be the head of the deputation sent to Afghanistan to confer with the Amir on frontier matters if His Highness expresses his readiness to receive it. The place of meeting will probably be Jellalabad, the Commander-in-Chief taking a suitable escort from Peshawar.

Lord Roberts has unequalled knowledge of Afghan and border offsire generally and the choice of an Indian officer of such rank should have due weight with the Amir, who cannot but recognize that every consideration will be given to his representations on the points now in

One horse of the levies was killed and three men and two horses wounded. One Waziri was shot. A sword and saddle-pad belonging to the 5th Bombay Cavalry was recovered, a fact which clearly fastens the gullt of the late shooting of the Bombay Cavalry Sowars upon the Wasiris. Atta Mahomed was deputed to carry a copy of the letter from the Government of India to the Amir complaining of the Waziris' behaviour to Sirder Gul Mahamed. The place where he was attacked is the mouth of the Tol river, where It runs into the Gomal about half way between Gulkach and Kaparikach. A post will probably be established at the mouth of the Tol.

August oth. There is now no doubt that the Hazara rebel-Honegainst the Amir is most serious. All the big tribes including Shelk All Besud and others have joined in it. Amir Abdul Rabman has already collected 20,000 regulars and 20,000 levies and other levice are joining his side. He has given out that he intends to crush the Hazaras and to divide up their lands among the triben, and the levies excited by cupidity and by his promises of rewards are apparently joining him daily in large numbers.

must be remembered that the rebellion though extremely serious in one sense is mot so from another point of view. The Hazaras are fighting purely on the defensive to defend their lands and rights for the present. The situation is distinctly due to the brutality of the Afghan soldlery when quartered among them.

There is not much doubt that the Amir will eagerly welcome Lord Roberts' mission. He will probably try and convince all those now wavering in their support that the Government of India are sending up their Commander-in-Chief and an army to belp him.

The letter from the Government of India offering the mission left Simis on the 23rd July and an answer may now strive any day, but the Amir has not yet replied to a letter sent on the 6th July complaining of the attitude of the Waziris, so delay must not surprise one, and the answer when it arrives is not at all unlikely to stipulate that Kabul and not Jelallabad shall be the meeting place.

There is no further news of the Russian movements on the Pamirs or elsewhere.

MADAME BERNHARDT'S SON.

Before young Maurice, Madame Bernhardt's son, and only child, settled down and married, the famous actress used to take him along with her on her triumphal tours around the world. He was a strikingly handsome young fellow, slender, and somewhat shy, with a dark moustache and of a decided y aris ocratic appearance. Of course, with a celebrated mamma dotting on him, and earning money by the bushel, young Maurice saw no reason for refraining from sowing his wild cats. And this he did in America as well as at home, and the mother who adored him always ungrudgingly found the money for him. On one occasion, five years ago, young Maurice was initiated into the great American game of poker at a New York Club, and lost some $3,000. And on another occasion he fell a victim to some sharks, in another club, who fleeced him . out of $7,000 in baccarat. "And didn't he fight four duels for my sake ?" Madamo Bernhardt continued with increasing warmth. "Only four ?" "Only four ! Why," isn't that more than enough? A WONDERFUL KINGDOM.

M. Mizon, who has just returned to France, was charged by the French Committee of Rio Benito to undertake the commercial exploration of some of the more remote and less-known regions of the French Congo. He is now 39 years of age, and by his physical constitution and his spirit of enterprise is well adapted for the trying work of African exploration. He has given a very interesting account of his adventures, and some of his stories show either that the imagination of French travellers is still as fertile as ever, or that the wonders of the Dark Continent are far from exhausted by the many expeditions which have of late years penetrated its virgin recesses. Mr. Rider Haggard should certainly investigate M. Miron's account of the marvellous kingdom of Adamawa. The monarch of this bltherto unknown empire has an army of 400,000 men, besides a sort of foreign legion of Mohammedan mercenaries 100,000 the Amir will, probably send a prompt teply strong. They are divided into army corps severally commanded by the provincial govername Kabul instead of Jelialabad as the place nors, and the officers are all clad in silken of meeting. He has, however, not yet replied to molform. Every week the Sultan holds an imposing seview, when, at the sound of the trumpet, the warriors congregate under their divisional banners. A large detachment of body-guards are habited in suits of mail and plumed helmets, Advices from the West Coast of Africa state dated from the sixteenth and seventeenth that the French fleet, is bombarding the Coast country, when they were brought into the country of Dahomey. A small column of French troops, by unknown European merchants, who naturally canticipated such garments, would find a ready imarket in a tropical climate. Strange to say, the Winchester rifles. Two French were killed and warriors of Adamawa are, not negroes but white. men, and M. Mixon explains this anomaly by the hypothesis of an Egyptian invasion in some remote age, when, apparently, it was quite easy so steadily that the Amir is said to have collected, for a large population to transport itself from the 20,000 regular troops and a similar number of most morthern reaches of the Nile to the levies in order to subdue it. She is a negress, albeit a very Hazaras was in favour of the latter, It is doubt pretty one, and she speaks the language of disingenuous Albion better than that-Yet forther trouble has occurred in Afghanis- | chivalric Gaul. She is the daughter of a chief tan, The Firezkuhis section of the Char Almaks, and not only does she adore M. Mison, but she are reported to have sent raiding parties into hisses all his male visitors, including the reporters and interviewers. The latter gentlemen have declared her ravissants in spite of between the great mountain ranges of Bandil. her black complexion, and she is likely to be the CLOISONNE and PORCELAIN VASES, etc., Turkistan and Safed Koh, wherein lie the lioness of the next Paris season. ""Tis never too lato to mend" is an old saying, very applicable in passes of reformation or leaving off bed habits but in cases of slokness or disease no dalay must occur, or it will very probably soon be "too late to mend." .. At the outest of disease almort svery case is curable; if neglected almost every disease will progress beyond its curable stages. A simple headache is a reflex sign that an internal organ is deranged, and this irregularity continues and Increases, although the noticeable signs—headsohe, &s; diseppear. An early treatment with Clamenta Tonio is necessary, and must, on account of its scientific composition, prove an effective remedy. Mrs. Mosller, Georgins street, Newtown, N.S.W. writes: "I can with confidence bear witness to the wonderful efficier of Clement's Tonic in curing liver and kidney disease. I have long been a victim to indigestion (caused by liver complaint) and an affection of the kidneys. I suffered terribly from headaches, pains in the back and side, with obstinate Sometipation. Ho one except myself knows what my with no ability or inclination to perform my daily_ work. My tongue was furred in the morning, and a sour taste in the mouth, and frequent vemiting, oneday I would be pretty well and the next Very distressed or completely prostrated with a very confirmed languer. This went on until I was so ill I was completely done up and quite unable to move. My ankles being swellen as thick as my thighs; I consulted physicians, all of whom pronounced the case one of dropsy. They variously ascribed the cause to the heart, liver, or Bright's disease. The kidneys were undoubtedly diseased, because the swollen ankles when pressed with the finger would leave a dent in the place for days, and it was easy to. press the end of the finger an luch deep, when the hole would not fill up for four days. I had heard of the wonderful cures effected by Clement's Tonic and commenced its use. I took three bottles and the swelling in the ankies commenced gradually, to subside. I continued the medicine, and am now completely cured; my ankles are their usual size; I have no aches nor pains and can do a good day's work with pleasure; my tired aching feelings have all disappeared, and I am confident I have been rescued from an untimely grave by the wonderful virtues of Cloment's Tonic. My address is at the head of this letter, and I will reply to any communications if a stamped envelope is seekt with enquiry, as I consider it my duty to publish a record r of my wonderful care." Remember there, are hundreds of imitations in Australasis; insist on Clement's Tonic, 'tis sold by all chemists and storekeepers. To take substitutes is only to waste your time and money.

CONSUMPTION. Wasting Diseases, and General IDebility. Doctors disagree as to the relative value of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites the one supplying strength and flesh—the others giving nerve power and acting as a tonic to the digestion and entire system. But in Scott's Emulsion of Pare Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphiles the two are combined, and the effect is wonderful. Thousands who have derived no permanent benefit from other preparations have been cured by this. "Scott's Emulsion" is perfectly palatable, and is easily digested even by those who cannot tolerate plain Cod Liver Oil Any Chemist can supply it. A. S. Watson & Co.
